Predictive Services Discussion: An upper ridge centered over the Four Corners region will spread across much of the U.S. The upper low over the Northwest weakens but helps maintain southwesterly to westerly flow over the northwest and northern Rockies. A weak upper low forms over the mid-Atlantic coast. A few lingering showers will remain over the Northwest and northern Rockies. Breezy conditions will continue from California to Montana. Scattered showers and thunderstorms will develop along the Gulf Coast. Temperatures throughout the country will warm but will remain mild in the northwestern states and across the mid-Atlantic region. Very warm to hot conditions will cover the remaining states, with the central and southern Plains and the Southwest experiencing near record heat. In Alaska, showers and thunderstorms will spread across most of the state while temperatures continue to fall.

LEAD Time

Leadership Environment

Leadership Category

Leadership is defined as the act of influencing people in order to achieve a result. The leadership environment is made up of critical elements that a successful leader must consider in planning for effective action. Those critical elements are:

- YOU - the leader, who is ultimately responsible for all action and results.
- YOUR PEOPLE - those that you are responsible for.
- SITUATION - comprised of the many unique variables that influence a leader's decision such as objectives, conditions, resources available, organizational influences, and others affected by the action.
- CONSEQUENCES - the short and long-term effects of your actions.

Leaders constantly assess the elements of the leadership environment and adapt accordingly. Successful leaders understand the interplay of these variables and demonstrate flexibility in selecting appropriate leadership tools and techniques as a situation changes.

Discussion Points

- Each mission has a different level risk. Discuss how the 4 leadership environment elements affect perceived risk in a changing environment.
- Each situation is unique and changes over time. Discuss what changes you might predict in your environment today.
- Discuss what leadership tools might be appropriate for those predicted changes today.
