Predictive Services Discussion:

Strong high pressure ridging over the Western States will lead to hot and dry conditions in most areas which should continue to promote significant Initial Attack. More significant surges of monsoonal moisture will begin to work their way into the Southwest, leading a transition toward wetter storms across the four Corners Region and southern California. A weak disturbance moving east along the Canadian Border will produce scattered wet storms across parts of Montana. Cooler, drier, and breezier conditions are expected from the Northern Plains through the Mid-Atlantic and up into New England. A stalled frontal boundary across the Deep South will lead to widespread convection. In Alaska, showers and storms are expected as a strong cold front moves across the interior of the state. Along the coast, showers will continue as an upper low pressure area remains stalled over the northern Gulf of Alaska.

NO COMMUNICATION LINK WITH CREW MEMBERS, SUPERVISORS & ADJOINING FORCES

Fire Communication Category

Watchout Situation #7 is a danger that must be mitigated by maintaining good communications while working on fires. Firefighters must constantly ask themselves the following questions as situations change on the fireline:

- Can communications be established?
  - Talk about how communications are set up on fires.
  - Review situations where communications were a problem and what was done to fix the problem.
  - Do you need a repeater setup or can an experienced firefighter act as a human repeater?

- Is the communication triangle complete?
  - Review the communication triangle and where it comes up in the "10 Standard Fire Orders" and the "18 Watchout Situations."
  - Discuss ways that firefighters can maintain the communication triangle on the fireline.

- Reduce the risks
  - If the situation is complex, wait until communications are in place.
  - Talk about the fires where crews had to leave the line, didn't go out on the line, or something negative happened because communications were inadequate. Discuss what was done to establish communications.
