Predictive Services Discussion: The next week will feature wetter than normal conditions across much of the CONUS as a series of strong systems move across the Lower 48 bringing bonus snowpack to the Rocky and Cascade Mountain Ranges. Lower elevations across the West will receive above average rainfall which will lead to robust growth of the fine fuels this spring. Exceptions to this will be areas along the Mexican Border and Southern California which will be drier than normal as the passing systems stay north. Periodic critical fire weather conditions will remain possible across New Mexico through the weekend and again Wednesday as passing systems increase wind flow over the state. Most of the East can expect warmer and wetter conditions than normal over the next week. Florida will remain dry. Fire activity across the state will continue. In Alaska cooler than average conditions are expected until mid-week. Light snow will be possible across eastern sections of the interior Monday. A warm front will lift Northeast across the state on Wednesday bringing much warmer conditions along with the possibility of precipitation to western portions of the state through Thursday. Some areas across the interior could reach freezing under the warm southeasterly flow as an Aleutian Low intensifies over Unalaska.

INSTRUCTIONS AND ASSIGNMENTS NOT CLEAR

Fire Communications Category

Every firefighter will be giving and receive briefings at some point on the job. Briefings are an effective way to disseminate information that can make the firefighter's job safer and easier. When giving a briefing, it is important to keep the following questions in mind and remain perceptive to how the audience is receiving the information:

- Did you use the Incident Response Pocket Guide standards briefing checklist?
- Did they ask questions? Talk about what it is like giving a briefing. Do you get empty stares? What feedback are you looking for to ensure they understand you?

Did they take notes? What kind of information would you like to see people write down?

- Did they repeat information back? What other ways can you identify that your briefing is registering?
- Did you give all the necessary information? How will you ensure that you covered everything necessary?
- Task
- Location
- Communications
- Hazards
- Who, when, etc.
- It is also important for the firefighter who is receiving instructions to be mindful of the following during the briefing:
- Did you really listen? What do you do to make yourself pay attention to everything being said?
- Did you understand the assignment, location, and the nature and location of hazards? Do you expect to figure it out for yourself when you get out there or do you step forward and ask questions?
- You must know the location of the assignment and:
- What is to be done?
- Who you are to report to and how often to report.
- When you are expected to complete the assignment.
- Hazards.
- Communication plan frequencies.
- Weather and fire behavior.
- Status of adjoining forces.
