Predictive Services Discussion: Dry conditions across the interior of Alaska will continue, but temperatures will be a few degrees cooler as the high pressure area over the central portion of the state weakens slightly. Hot and dry conditions will continue across the West in the Lower 48 as the strong ridge of high pressure remains amplified along the Pacific Coast. Widely scattered storms will continue to be possible across the Four Corners and Great Basin regions in the afternoon where breezy winds and low rhs will contribute to critical fire weather conditions. Looking east, Tropical Storm Cindy will make landfall somewhere between the coastal areas of southeastern Texas and Baton Rouge, Louisiana. The main concerns with this system are for coastal flooding. Meanwhile, the Northern Plains and the Great Lakes region will remain cool and dry under a breezy westerly flow.

POWERLINE SAFETY

Miscellaneous Fireline Hazards

Operating near or under power lines poses unique hazards, and the following precautions should be followed to reduce potential equipment damage or injury:

- If possible, the power company should deactivate lines in the fire area.
- Don't operate heavy equipment under power lines.
- Keep all aviation activity away from power lines. Inform air attack and/or other aviation resources of the location of the power lines.
- Don't drive with long antennas under power lines.
- Don't stand near power lines during retardant drops.
- Don't park under power lines. The magnetic field around energized power lines can induce an electrical charge in ungrounded vehicles or equipment. This charge can shock anyone who touches the vehicle.
- Don't apply straight stream to power lines.
- All personnel should be cautioned that smoke may become charged and conduct the electrical current. Deactivated transmission and distribution lines may continue to pose a hazard due to induction.
- If power lines fall on your vehicle, DON'T leave the vehicle until the power company arrives. If the vehicle is on fire or fire is near, jump clear, don't hang on, keep feet together, and bunny hop away.
