Predictive Services Discussion: Upper-level troughing will deepen over British Columbia, Pacific Northwest, and Northern Rockies today as a cold front slides south through the Pacific Northwest. Widespread precipitation is expected across the Pacific Northwest and Northern Rockies with snow in the mountains and possibly some lower elevations as well due to the cold air driving south out of Canada. A cold front will continue pushing south through Texas and east into the Appalachians with scattered precipitation from the Southeast into the eastern Great Lakes near the cold front.

No Communication Link

Fire Communication Category

Watchout Situation #7 is a danger that must be mitigated by maintaining good communications while working on fires. Firefighters must constantly ask themselves the following questions as situations change on the fireline:

- Can communication(s) be established?
- Talk about how communications are set up on fires, including the variables that have to be considered.
- Review situations where communications were a problem and what was done to fix the problem.
- Do you need a repeater setup or can an experienced firefighter act as a human repeater?
- Is the communication triangle complete?
- Review the communication triangle, and where it comes up in the "10 Standard Fire Orders" and the "18 Watchout Situations."
- Discuss ways that firefighters can maintain the communication triangle on the fireline.

Reduce the risks

- If the situation is complex, wait until communications are in place.
- Talk about the fires where crews had to leave the line, didn't go out on the line, or something negative happened because communications were inadequate. Discuss what was done to establish communications.
- Discuss possible scenarios in which communications could be disrupted, and possible solutions.
