Predictive Services Discussion: Upper-level high pressure builds over the Pacific Northwest coast bringing hot temperatures to northern California and the Northwest. A strong cold front will move south across the Plains and along and east of the Continental Divide in Wyoming and Colorado, with abundant cloud cover and areas of wetting rain. Isolated wet and dry storms will occur over portions of the eastern Sierra, Great Basin, and West Slope with temperatures near average. The Southwest will see temperatures rise to a few degrees above average due to less cloud cover and light west flow aloft. The interior of Alaska will experience another day of very warm temperatures and low relative humidity, but south winds will begin to abate today.

Power Line Safety

Miscellaneous Fireline Hazards

Operating near or under power lines poses unique hazards, and the following precautions should be followed to reduce potential injury or equipment damage:

- If possible, the power company should deactivate lines in the fire area.
- Don't operate heavy equipment under power lines.
- Don't drive with long antennas under power lines.
- Don't park under power lines. The magnetic field around energized power lines can induce an electrical charge in ungrounded vehicles or equipment. This charge can shock anyone who touches the vehicle.
- Keep all aviation activity away from power lines. Inform air attack and/or other aviation resources of the location of the power lines.
- Don't stand near power lines during retardant drops.
- Don't apply a straight stream to power lines.
- All personnel should be cautioned that smoke may become charged and conduct the electrical current. Deactivated transmission and distribution lines may continue to pose a hazard due to induction.
- If power lines fall on your vehicle, DON'T leave the vehicle until the power company arrives. If the vehicle is on fire or fire is near: jump clear, don't hang on, keep feet together, and bunny hop away.
