Predictive Services Discussion: An upper low will move from the northern Rockies into the northern Plains with an associated cold front moving through the Rockies onto the central and northern High Plains. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are expected across Montana and much of the Rockies near and east of the Continental Divide, with the showers and thunderstorms moving onto the central and northern Plains by this evening. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are also likely across portions of the Northeast, Mid-Atlantic, and Florida Peninsula ahead of a cold front. Hot and dry conditions will continue on the southern Plains with temperatures near or above 100°F and minimum relative humidity below 25%. Above normal temperatures with relative humidity below 30% is likely across the Southeast as well, with locally elevated conditions due to west winds of 10-20 mph across portions of Georgia and the eastern Carolinas.

After Action Review (AAR) – Part 1 Fire Communication Category

How to Conduct an Effective AAR

An AAR is a professional discussion of an event. The objective is to identify successes and failures. It is a tool that leaders, teams, crews, and units can use to get maximum learning benefit from every incident or project. It is essential for wildland firefighters to learn from mistakes and to capitalize on successes. It is considered a valuable tool in high-risk professions, where the smallest mistakes can lead to disastrous results. An AAR is not a critique and not a forum to assign blame. It is an open, honest, and professional discussion for purposes of improvement.

Once you (the leader/facilitator) have demonstrated that the AAR works and that it will be part of your team's standard operating procedures, the discussion will become more open. Finding out what they did is not nearly as important as why they did it. Good active listening skills are essential. Do not immediately try to solve or correct the issue, but let it play out. Try to get to the root of the issue. The leader must be a part of the AAR and will have to accept criticism. This is important because the team will be looking for affirmation of the AAR process.

- An AAR is performed as immediately after the event as possible by the personnel involved.
- The leader's role is to ensure skilled facilitation of the AAR.
- Reinforce that respectful disagreement is okay. Keep focused on the what, not the who.
- Make sure everyone participates.
- Pay attention to time.
- Establish clear ground rules: encourage candor and openness, all participants have equal ownership, focus on improving performance, and keep all discussions confidential.
- End the AAR on a positive note.

1. What was planned?

Review the intent of the mission

Desired end state (what does right look like).

2. What actually happened?

Establish the facts

Pool multiple perspectives to build a shared picture of what happened.

3. Why did it happen?

Analysis of cause and effect

Provide progressive refinement for drawing out explanations of what occurred.

4. What are we going to do next time?

Correct weaknesses and sustain strengths

Focus on items you can fix, rather than external forces outside of your control.
